2. We were able to secure two spaces for Commo in the 18 January running of the SA-106 Communications Signal Analysis Course. This was a last-minute effort, and it was successful because of the fine cooperation received from NSA.

25X1A6a 4. The Office of Computer Services' Training Staff has informally negotiated with [REDACTED] and 25X1A requested that they conduct another "in-house" course, Systems Analysis Workshop. The course is scheduled to run from 1 - 19 February 1971 [REDACTED] tuition is set at $525 each. 25X1C4a 5. Enrollment for Monday's National Interdepartmental Seminar has again changed since the 31 December Weekly Report. The final roster was prepared on 7 January and ten nominees are included: 4 DDS (OC, OP, OS, OL); 1 DDI (OER); 3 DDP (WH, EUR, AF); 1 DDS&T (OEL); and 1 O/DCI (IG Staff). Special last-minute [REDACTED]

6. 208 requests were submitted in time to be included in the Big Advance on 12 January; costs for tuition and fees total approximately $36,500.00 for the local, part time academic training.

In addition, 27 requests were previously processed for attendance at Northern Virginia Community College; there were not included in the above figure because registration was 4 - 8 January.

Based on past experience, we can expect at least 40 or 50 more requests for part-time academic sponsorship before the semester begins (handled by reimbursement). This should then be our largest block of sponsored employees for a Spring Semester. Almost all schools in the local area are included from the universities to the community colleges.

25X1A 7. At [REDACTED] request we are "polling" the Directorates to determine requirements for input into the Defense Intelligence School's courses for Fiscal Year 1972. Ten courses are included; the regular Intelligence Officer Courses, plus the three courses under the Information Science Center.

25X1A9a 8. New color film plus proper lighting used by Messrs. [REDACTED] and other senior officials at [REDACTED] resulted in excellent film footage.
